Year Of Tests
Of Feeds

Forty-three Hereford steers arrived at the Florida Experiment station near Belle Glade this week for the third yearly test feeding operations conducted by the local

The new shipment of steers adds to the former herd of 140 head and will mark the beginning of the third and final year of tests conducted on these rations. The cattle will be divided into five separate lots to facilitate the tests.

fresh sugar cane with ground snapped corn and cotton seed meal. Lot two will receive sugar cane silage with the same amount of corn as lot number one in addition to the cotton seed meal. The third lot will be fed the silage with one-half the amount of corn as the first two lots and with the other one-half of feed replaced by pound for pound by bulk molasses. Lot number four will get fresh sugar cane with corn and molasses.

The steers will be allowed to graze on Dallis grass pasturage with the same grain ration as lot numbers one and two.

The steers are weighed at the end of every 28 day period, and this year's summation of results will be joined with the results of the two previous year's tests and the total final results will be published by the Florida Experiment division.

Officials at the farm state that, the nutritional problems of cattle growers in the Everglades are approaching a solution. The feeding of easily grown sugar cane in supplement to the year around luxuriant pasturage has resulted in economical and highly nutritional feeding conditions. The sugar cane yield at the local experiment station has been as high as 77 tons per acre. Milk yield for cows has also been of high quality and quantity. One cow produced as much as 5400 pounds and a second produced over 5200 pounds for a one year period. One member of the herd has a 5% butter fat yield while the general average age run as high as 47%. The Experiment station has also been successful in solving recurrent breeding troubles of cattle men in this section. A 100% calf crop is expected this year.

The stock raising and feeding program, which was adopted by the local station on December 1, 1921, consists of three specialized divisions. The pure-bred Devon herd of about 60 animals is the first of these three group of livestock activities. Second in the station's cattle program is the cross-breeds with the ordinary range cattle and includes the maintenance of 15 native cows and an offspring of about 20 head. The third division consists of the extensive steer feeding work. Dr. J. R. Neller is in charge of

The local experiment farm and Ralph Kidder is in charge of the live stock program.

148 ATTEND BELLE GLADE BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Sunday school of the Belle Glade First Baptist church under the leadership of Superintendent H. E. Jones, broke all former records last Sunday when one hundred and forty-eight were in attendance. One of the secrets of this increased growth, according to the pastor; is the rapid growth of the two classes? For men. The Busy Men Bible class enjoyed a oyster supper at the church Thursday night, when plans were made for a still larger attendance.

PREVENT THIS

While folks are in the throes of the approaching hunting season it is timely to caution the fathers who shoot the guns to take care in leaving weapons lying around where a playful child might reach them. Remove shells and ammunition from the reach of a child warning to stage an act of "cops and robbers." Last year children were injured trying to drive a bullet with a hammer. This is only one of a great many accidents which occur in homes during this season. This is only one instance where a father was careless—there are many others. Weapons are all right in their place, but a youngster should be kept in their place. A youngster who delights in playing Indian and cowboy would find great pleasure in a real gun and ammunition. Guard against a tragedy in your home.

QUICK RECOVERY

Who hasn't had a miserable tooth ache that has been cured by walking into a dentist's office and merely looking around? In talking to a friend who felt teeth and serum shots might help to relieve a hay fever condition, when she found out the cost her attention stopped! Which reminds us of the man who was suffering from uncontrollable hiccoughs for five days. He went to a hospital where the doctor lead him to an emergency room with its operating table, scissors, clamps and so on. One glance was enough. The sufferer stopped hiccoughing. And any person who ever looked over a like situation will believe this a very plausible reason.

HALLOWEEN AGAIN

It is fitting in order to establish our age as not too old to remember, that we bring to mind the celebration of All Hallows Eve in the days before the advent of band. Popcorn, falls and taffy pulls were the order of the day, and when we spoke of hiccoughing in the days before the advent of band. Popcorn, falls and taffy pulls were the order of the day, and when we spoke of hiccoughing in the days before the advent of band. Popcorn, falls and taffy pulls were the order of the day, and when we spoke of hiccoughing in the days before the advent of band.

There was always special punishment meted out to folks who didn't like us—they were spotted long before Halloween. Can't you recall that we were actually destructive for the maneuvers were purely in fun and accepted as such. We didn't pick pins in doorbells and auto horns to keep them ringing until batteries were run down. Maybe that might have been because we didn't have so many to work with. Malicious destruction of property and vindictive deeds to innocent citizens makes Halloween a sore spot on the calendar and especially in this true. In many large cities where ruffians take this day to cause trouble and expense to the city by breaking street lights, stealing street signs and ringing false fire alarms. Perhaps we should write of Halloween's grandeur for those who are there are always those who are willing to learn.

Lauderdale Delegation—

Spe, was the next speaker. He began by outlining the manner in which the road was officially designated the Thomas E. Will Memorial Highway in honor of one of the pioneer settlers in this community. It was explained that highways 26, 29 and 23 will all be ranked as trunk line routes and will compete on the same rating with highway number one and the Tamiami Trail. Benefits to local growers and shippers, in the form of a quick route to the port of Fort Lauderdale and subsequent cheaper transportation to the north via water, were also brought out. It was explained that the route will be 20 miles shorter in distance to Jacksonville, than highway number one, five feet wider than that highway and that 207 spot lights will be eliminated. The road will also cut 57 miles from the present route to Tallahassee and 23 miles from the present route to Tampa.

Henry J. Driggers, another member of the highway committee, spoke briefly and outlined the work that had been done in securing the right-of-way for the road. He explained that the work details for the road will be made when the Circuit Court convenes on November 14, it was said. Mr. Driggers went on to say that approximately 65% of all of the incoming tourists enter the state through Lake City and the road which will mean that less traffic will be one of those to be passed through en route to Miami and the East Coast.

Other speakers included Abner Newman, chairman of the Fort Lauderdale retail merchants' association, Walter Clark, high sheriff of Broward county, Logan T. Brown, one of the directors of the Fort Lauderdale Chamber of Commerce, Bill Eastman, another Chamber of Commerce director, Captain Will J. Reed, former mayor of Fort Lauderdale, apt. Guy Stovall, in charge of road maintenance in this county. Among the several points brought out by these speakers were the fact that unless the detour road is completed before the first of next year it will be a full eighteen months before Road 26 will be opened to the public. Various plans were presented for the construction of the 3 1/2 to 4 mile detour from South Bay to Okeechobee and general discussion of the benefits from such a detour to school children living in Okeechobee and residents of this section of place. Members of the delegation who did not speak were Raymond T. Malone and Carl Weddings.

Following the general discussion in connection with road 26,

Mr. Scullen introduced questions regarding the progress being made in the completion of road 26. Members of the Fort Lauderdale delegation asserted that state appropriations for the roads 25 and 29 were entirely separate and that the approximately $10,000 needed for construction of the necessary detour for road 26 would not in any way deduct from the state allotment for road 25.

Mr. Scullen called the regular session of the Chamber of Commerce to order following the departure of the Fort Lauderdale delegation. A committee was appointed to assist the Fort Lauderdale Chamber of Commerce in making known to the State Road department the desirability of completing or making passable road 26. Lou Betzner, W. P. Hill and James Scullen were those members appointed.

WILDLIFE LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the Canal Point-Pahokee Wildlife League Tuesday night new officers were elected. They are: Harold Rosenberg, president; J. P. McLeure, first vice president; Charlie Barfield, second vice president and Browning Roach, secretary and treasurer. Regular meetings in the future will be held on the first Wednesday night of each month.

President, Rosenberg said that a drive would be made to collect dues and increase the membership. The president was appointed a delegate to the South Florida wildlife council. The new membership committee is composed of Sam Chastain, J. P. McLeure, George Belk and Browning Roach. Chairmen of all committees will meet with the president on the third Wednesday of each month.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"Three Blind Mice," the new Darryl F. Zanuck romantic hit from the 20th Century-Fox studios, comes to the P. H. Jones theatre in Pahokee on Sunday and Monday as a distinct innovation in motion picture production.

While the usual procedure has been to make established stage successes and bring them out in screen versions, this production reverses the order by giving movie fadism a glittering cinematic format of Stephen Powys' play—before "Shakespeare" London and Broadway openings.

Assurance of a maximum of romantic beauty has been established in the selection of Lovell Young and Joel McCrea as co-stars.

"Three Blind Mice" also adds a brilliant cast which includes David Niven, Stuart Erwin, Marjorie Weaver, Pauline Moore, Blinnie Weaver, Jane Darwell. In the capable hands of veteran director William A. Seltzer the charm of Miss Young, according to preview reports, "regulates a new, thrilling portrayal."
